

The Downsizing Donation Guide

A Resource for Residents of
New Haven County CT

Compiled by Elaine Piraino-Holevoet

And with the assistance of

Your home. In our villages.

INTRODUCTION

The Downsizing Donation Guide's goal is to keep useful items being removed from people's homes as they downsize out of the waste stream and out of recycling bins. Its broader mission is to find a new life for these items with organizations that will use them.

As each of us makes our journey [cycles] through life, our needs and situations change. Along the way we acquire things to fill those needs, and if we are not careful to winnow down as we travel, these things accumulate. It is easy to end up with a lot of stuff.

What to do with it all? Taking it to the Goodwill or Salvation Army donation bin is an easy solution for many items. But what about eyeglasses, a bicycle, a hospital bed, a hand-crocheted afghan, a wheelbarrow, a kayak, an erector set, power tools, or a cello? If you want to give special things like these away, what are the options? Knowing that such items will find a new life should make parting with them easier.

The Downsizing Donation Guide was compiled to help residents of New Haven County remove useful, gently used items from their homes or businesses and donate them to places where they know they will be put to good use.

The first section of The Downsizing Donation Guide is an alphabetical listing of items that organizations have included on their wishlists, next to the page numbers for the entries of the organization(s) accepting them.

The second section is an alphabetical compilation of the 43 participating organizations. Each has its own page that includes a mission statement, a wishlist, and clear instructions for making donations. The links in this PDF are live. If you click on an underlined URL you will be taken to a web page. If you click on an email address you will generate an email. The live links allow you to learn about each organization's work in the community and exactly how your donation will be used.

The project was funded with a grant from RecycleCT. HomeHavenVillages, Inc. served as grant sponsor.

Thanks to RecycleCT and HomeHavenVillages.org for making this project possible. Thanks to all the organizations who participated, particularly the early adopters of the idea who helped me craft my message and compose the first entries. These pages served as models to convince others that they, too, should participate. And heartfelt thanks to friends, family, and colleagues for their suggestions and encouragement.

If you make a donation as a result of The Downsizing Donation Guide, please tell the organization how you heard about their needs so they can let me know. Please tell me as well: downsizingdonationguide@piroet.com. Comments are also welcome.

"Great things are done by a series of small things brought together."

- Vincent Van Gogh

Please share the The Downsizing Donation Guide whenever you have the opportunity.

With sincere thanks.

ACES EDUCATIONAL CENTER FOR THE ARTS (ACES ECA)

Mission

ECA's mission is to provide high school students with the experience of studying the fine arts with practicing professional artists, stimulating a life-long curiosity for learning and a passion for the arts. ECA is nestled in the heart of New Haven's Audubon Arts District and since 1973 has been a leader in fostering the education of emerging artists as they develop their unique voices. High school students from over twenty-five school districts attend ECA in the afternoon to study creative writing, dance, music, theatre and visual arts with professional artists.

THE ANIMAL HAVEN

Mission

The Animal Haven's mission is to provide a temporary, safe, caring and humane refuge for homeless, adoptable cats and dogs and to subsequently place these animals in quality, adoptive and permanent homes. We advocate responsible pet ownership, follow a mandatory spay-neuter policy, prohibit euthanizing our animals, except when euthanasia is in the best interest of a sick or dying animals, advised to be necessary by a licensed veterinarian and/or required by law, and work in our community to fight animal cruelty through education. The Animal Haven enlists and promotes public involvement in the humane treatment of animals and the promotion of justice and compassion for animals. Since 1948, The Animal Haven has been celebrating the special friendship between people and their animal companions.

BEST VIDEO FILM AND CULTURAL CENTER (BVFCC)

Mission

Best Video, founded in 1985, features a DVD archive in excess of 30,000 titles, comprising a wealth of classic, foreign, independent, cult, contemporary and children's titles. In November 2015, after 30 years in business, owner Hank Paper sold the assets of the store to the recently formed nonprofit Best Video Film and Cultural Center (BVFCC).

BVFCC's mission is to maintain and augment the exceptional and deep archive of movies created by Hank Paper as a resource for the local community of academics, educators and film aficionados. BVFCC hosts an expansive calendar of film and music events in the Performance Space. BVFCC's Café is an adjunct to event programming and a vibrant meeting place for members of the local community. In addition, BVFCC plans to partner with local teachers to develop a curriculum based on the power of movies as a communication medium.

More information is available at:

<https://www.bestvideo.com/>

Wishlist

- DVDs and Music CDs — All Genres (in like new to very good condition with original cases and artwork). All CDS and most DVDs will be sold to raise funds to support BVFCC programming and general operations.

BRADLEY STREET BICYCLE CO-OP

Mission

The Bradley Street Bicycle Co-op is a community bike shop working towards an equitable New Haven by getting people on bikes. We are located in the East Rock neighborhood of New Haven and are a community space and a place to come work on your bike.

Bicycle Recycling Program: We want to get more people on bikes. In New Haven especially, there are many people who cannot afford a bike. We partner with organizations like IRIS, CMHC, and others to get these people on bikes. Through the generosity of individuals, organizations, shops, and institutions throughout the region, we get bikes donated to us and we repair them through the hard work of our volunteers and staff so that they are safe and ready for another life.

More information is available at:

<http://bsbc.co/>

CREATIVE ARTS WORKSHOP

Mission

Creative Arts Workshop is a nonprofit regional center for the visual arts that has served the Greater New Haven area since 1961. Located in the heart of the award-winning Audubon Arts District, CAW offers a wide range of visual arts classes in its own three-story building with fully-equipped studios and an active exhibition schedule in its well-known Hilles Gallery. More than 1,700 adults and young people enroll annually in the over 300 courses offered by Creative Arts Workshop, while thousands of visitors enjoy the exhibitions in both galleries throughout the year.

More info is available at:

www.creativeartsworkshop.org

Wishlist

Creative Arts often needs office supplies, occasionally needs office equipment, and specific supplies for its eight studios. Helping us secure these supplies and needed items helps us do what we do best—offer classes and workshops to encourage and develop creativity.

ELI WHITNEY MUSEUM

Mission

The Museum is an experimental learning workshop. It collects and exhibits, not objects, but the ways in which objects are made and the ways through which objects educate. We design projects to enrich the depth and scope of hands on learning. We focus on skills, materials and experience that complement the work of conventional classrooms. Invention draws no lines between math, science, literacy, art, history and geography.

A central goal of our programs is to promote pluralism in learning. We support rigorous academic achievement. But we argue that workshop learning and workplace learning identify genius that classrooms may not reward. We identify and support students who express themselves most eloquently, not with words, but with their hands. The goal is apparent in the work of students who master our smallest projects and in the work of the 85 young apprentices who share in the design, production and teaching of those projects.

FRIENDS OF THE WOODBRIDGE LIBRARY

Bookstore Alley

Mission

Contributions from the Friends of the Woodbridge Library provide the Library with books, programs, equipment, and professional training for staff that would otherwise not be funded. The Friends' support covers hundreds of activities for all ages from preschool story times to cooking demonstrations, movie nights, and statewide museum passes. In 2017, over 1,400 people attended programs sponsored by the Friends.

Membership in the Friends is open to all interested people, organizations, and businesses.

A signature achievement of the Friends is our Bookstore Alley, a wonderful, cheerful, busy, and well-organized used bookstore amply stocked with gently used books, sorted and cleaned by our volunteers. Bookstore Alley is located on the Mezzanine level of the Library and is open during all Library hours.

Wishlist

- Books (new and gently used)
- DVDs
- CDs
- Jigsaw Puzzles

Donation Guidelines:

We ask that donations be clean and in good condition. We cannot accept any item that is damp, has mold, or has damage from smoking as these conditions can spread through our collection. Donations can be dropped off near the front desk during library hours.

MUSIC HAVEN

Mission

Music Haven empowers and connects young people through exceptional tuition-free music education, mentoring, and performance by our resident musicians in the heart of New Haven, giving all kids a chance to play.

At Music Haven, young musicians study with and are mentored by members of our resident ensemble, the Haven String Quartet, or one of our other full-time conservatory-trained professional resident musicians, from when they are in first, second, or third grade until they graduate from high school. At the heart of our model is the relationship between teacher and student, and the relationships between the young musicians, themselves—they learn not only from the members of the string quartet, but also from the foundations of chamber music: listening to each other, working as a team, communicating through music, and dedication and focus in service of creating something beautiful together. Through music, they build community, develop resilience and self-confidence, and experience collective struggle and success.

NEW HAVEN URBAN RESOURCES INITIATIVE (URI)

Mission

URI is a university non-profit partnership with a mission to foster community-based land stewardship, promote environmental education, advance the practice of urban forestry, and provide Yale students with clinical learning opportunities.

URI's Community Greenspace program provides material supplies, technical advice, and hands-on training to support resident-driven community greening projects. Since 1995, Greenspace has completed more than 300 diverse urban restoration projects with an annual participation of nearly 1,000 New Haven residents.

URI's green jobs program GreenSkills employs high school students and adults with barriers to employment through the planting of street trees and the construction and maintenance of bioswales. URI has planted over 8,000 trees and constructed nearly 100 bioswales in New Haven.
